Quaker City of the West" Is Becoming Quite Metropolitan.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., Aug. 16 .- It is necessary for the people of Richmond to rub their eyes these days to convince themselves that they are really in the Quaker city of the West. It has only been four or five years since Richmond had but one railroad-the Pennsylvania-one express company and a street car line that was hardly worth the name and gave very limited service. To-day Richmond has two railroads, three express offices and traction cars are running in from Indianapolis on the west and Dayton, O., on the east, while the local service has been greatly improved and extended. Not only this, but a line in from Hamilton, O., on the south, and one to Portland and Winchester, on the north, is assured, and Richmond begins to feel that it will be something of an interurban center. Not only has Richmond improved in these regards, but the city has also added many fine buildings and other things that give the place a decidedly metropolitan air.

MUST POCKET A LOSS.

Anderson Odd Fellows Find Fireworks Exhibit Unprofitable. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ANDERSON, Ind., Aug. 16 .- The Anderson Canton of Odd Fellows have figured their loss on the four nights of Pain's "Ancient Rome," which has concluded its engagement here, at an even $1,000. The spectacular reproduction was advertised far and wide. The contract provided that Pain was to receive the first $2,500 and the remainder was to be equally divided. The Anderson canton, however, were at the expense of all advertising, music, light, grounds and incidental expenses. The attendance no night was as large as hoped and the attendance from near-by cities and towns was practically nothing. Thousands of people viewed the fireworks from positions along the Panhandle Railway tracks overlooking the grounds. The members of the canton have put up something like $2 menced in the early hours of the night, and, each to bring up the deficit. The show goes to Milwaukee from here.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ANDERSON, Ind., Aug. 16.-Fruit trees in Madison county are dying to an extent never know here before. The trees began withering perhaps two weeks ago in several localities. Little was thought of the few dead limbs and twigs at first, but soon it was a general report. In several instances whole orchards will be destroyed. Charles Gray, of North Anderson, made an examination of his orchard and found that a small insect had imbedded itself under the bark. The leaves of the tree first wither and then the limb shrivels and soon decays. The pear, cherry and apple trees have suffered most in the order named. LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 16.-Work will be begun to-morrow on the new standpipe at the county jail, and when it is finished Tippecanoe county will be adequately protected against mob violence, so far as attacks upon the county bastile are concerned. It is the pet idea of Superintendent Harrison that water is the best "persuader" ever used upon a mob. He does not believe in shooting into a mob to quell its riotous spirit, and has suggested to the Board of County Commissioners that water be used instead. The standpipe will be erected between the front and rear entrances to the jail, and in such a place that hose may be connected so as to sweep every portion of the structure. There are row. No concessions have been granted by two outlets to the pipe and an ample supply of hose, which may be instantly connected. # FIGURE IN SHOOTING SCRAPE.

Former Indianians Have a Desperate Fight in Denver, Col.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAFAYETTE, Ind., Aug. 16 .- Word has just been received from Denver, Col., that Hugh H. Swearingen, son of the late Benoni Swearingen, of this city, who is contracting freight agent for the Burlington at Denver, was in a sensational shooting scrape the other day, and it may be that his life will pay the penalty of the affair. The Swearingens were at one time one of the most prominent families in Lafayette and were known all over the State. The story goes that Charles H. Carnahan. who is a relatives of Gen. James R. After firing all of the shots into the air, Carnahan used the pistol as a club and pounded his victim on the head until he was unconscious. John Shannon, a telegraph operator, took the weapon away and held the infuriated Carnahan in the office until police were sent for, when he was placed under arrest. Physicians were called and Swearingen was taken in a cab to his home. He had not been touched by bullets, but his head was a mass of

The mysterious phase of the affair comes in the ignorance of everyone as to the cause of the trouble. Since Swearingen was not hurt, and there will probably be no prosecution, it is stated that no investigation will be made by the authorities. Both men are well connected in Indiana and in Denver. Carnahan married the daughter of Eben Smith, a large mine owner, and has been manager of the Resurrection mine. It is said by friends of the two men that the trouble arose over the refusal of Swearingen to concede certain demands for frieght concessions made by Carnahan, The police, however, scout this theory.

Complied With. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ANDERSON, Ind., Aug. 16 .- The directors of the Citizens' Gas Company of this city are worried over the failure of patrons to make contracts for the use of meters. There are over 2,400 consumers patrons of the Citizens' Company alone, and of this number less than five hundred have responded to the circular letters of the company and made contracts for the installing of meters. Meters are supplied by the gas company upon the payment of $5, and this sum is to term of service ends. The meters must be installed by the consumers, and this is in itself quite expensive, as few houses are so old. He was the first of a family of eleven piped that a meter can be made to register the exact consumption of gas without a good deal of extra expense. The Citizens' Company issued a statement that gas would be turned off from all consumers on Oct. 1 who had not made contracts for meters and had them installed. It is now questionable if all the consumers of the city could get their houses connected with meters in time. tion to provide fuel for Andersonians. One of the conservative directors of the Citizens' Company said last night that he fully expected to lose from five hundred to six hundred consumers by the order requiring the measurement of gas at 25 cents a thousand feet. The rule to shut off Oct. 1 will be rigidly enforced. The coal dealers have not laid in large supplies of coal, for the reason that transportation facilities have been poor. There are many orders in car lots out, but the sheds are practically all empty. There has been quite a little business during the summer in hard coal, but nothing rushing.

There are some people depending upon the

"I was laid up during the winter of 94-95 with sciatic rheumatism and nervous prostra-tion brought on by a severe attack of La-Grippe. The rheumatic pains were so severe at times that it was impossible for me to turn in bed. I was unable to sleep. I had two of our best physicians in attendance, took all the advertised remedies for troubles of this kind but got no help whatever until I took Dr. M.ies' Restorative Nervine. Six bottles restored me to health; I am better than for years; in fact am entirely relieved. can say with a clear conscience that it was Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine that restored me to health. When the pains of sciatica and rheumatism were most severe I secured almost immediate relief by the use of Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. I have recommended Dr. Miles' Remedies to many people."—Fred Myers, Redfield, S. D.

"I was taken with pain in my heart and under the left shoulder; with such heavy oppressed feeling in my chest that I could hardly breathe. I had palpitation so bad and my heart would throb so that it would shake my whole bed. I also had a weak, all gone feeling in the region of my heart. My doctor treated me for liver and stomach trouble but I failed to receive any benefit until a friend recommended Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Restorative Nervine. I used both and one box of the Anti-Pain Pills. I believe I am completely and permanently cured."-Mrs. J. W. Golding, Noblesville
